Are you looking for a great school to send your children to? If so, you have found one right here at St. Thomas. Our own Catholic St. Thomas of Villanova School is a Blue Ribbon School honored by the United States Department of Education. It is led by dedicated Principal, Mary Brinkman, teachers and staff who love and serve our children. Their own education and many years of teaching experience speaks volumes in our educational world. Our children receive a quality education as well as many, many different and varied curriculum, technological and life experiences. Most of all, our children receive a great Catholic education which helps them live and prepare to share the message of Christ in our world. Religion class everyday? Absolutely! The teaching of sound moral values? Absolutely! The teaching of love and respect for others? Of course! Do they experience the Mass and the Sacraments? Very much so! You are always invited to our all School Mass which is every Wednesday at 8:00am! We love creating and developing the future leaders of our church with God's help. We are proud of our Catholic grade school—come see for yourself!

Your Pastor,

Mother's Day Reflections

Pat Leali

(9:30am Mass)

Fr. Tom has asked me to talk about motherhood on this Mother's Day. I asked him about how long the talk should be and he said about 5 minutes. My husband Frank started laughing and said "5 minutes!" You're just starting to warm up! I guess after 60 years he knows me pretty well but I promise to try and keep it short - if possible. .

I'm supposed to give you the ages of our children, but out of deference to them I'll just let it suffice to say we had our first child a week before our 1st anniversary and our last 19 years later, which might lead you to wonder why Fr. Tom would ask me who, at age 81, to give this talk when I sometimes have a hard time remembering what we had for dinner last night! But having our children and being a mom is something I hope I will never forget.

Being a mom is many things. It's bringing that new little person home and getting to know him or her, studying every little movement, every coo, and trying and trying to figure out what each cry meant. Was he hungry, did he need a diaper change, was he uncomfortable, did I need to just hold him and carry him around or WHAT!

Over the next 19 years 5 more little people came into our lives. The first 4 were born in the first seven and a half years after we married. Two boys, a girl and another boy, Young Frank, Mike, Ruth and Paul and in between, to our great sorrow, there were 2 tiny souls that God wanted back with Him before they got a chance to be born. We hope to meet them when we get to heaven.

But, here we were. Our family was complete - we thought. So we moved to Palatine in 1971 to a new 4 bedroom home and I took a part time job a few blocks away at the office of NSSEO Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization. It was a great job and I loved it. Then one morning as I was getting the coffee pot started I thought I must be coming down with the stomach flu that was going around. Not so. Nine months later our David was born. I thought the novelty of a new baby would wear off, but it never did. As soon as the older ones came home from school the first thing they did was look for their little brother.

Then 4 years later another new baby to get everyone's attention, Lisa, was born - on my 41st birthday! We brought her home from the hospital, put her in the bassinet, and I sat down with young Frank to hear about his first day at Harper College. We had entered what I called the "diaper and dating" years. It was bedlam at times, but it brought some of our best memories.

Our children were raised in the turbulent decades of the 60's, 70's and early 80's. This was also a time when we were told that being a stay-at-home mom was a waste of our talents. ....

Any trained chimpanzee could do what we did. And no matter how I tried to ignore these remarks or how often my husband told me these women didn't know what they were talking about - it hurt - a lot. Then again, even though I didn't go to college, I knew where to get the best cuts of meat for the least amount of money. I could make a meal for 8 people that lasted for 2 more dinners and made a fun time out of "leftover" night with all the little Tupperware dishes on the table and all without Pinterest.

There were and probably still are a lot of things nobody told us when we first became moms. Things like - in spite of how much joy and difficult times there were in having these children and watching them grow into teens and young men and women, they were nothing compared to having to let them go. Watching them leave for college and then leave again to make their own homes - nobody told us about that and the hole it left at our table and in our hearts.

At the same time, nobody told us about the feelings of pride in seeing them accomplish their goals, of watching them start their own families and being much better parents than I ever thought I was.

Also nobody told us about the pain of seeing some of their marriages fall apart and the pain it caused them and their children as they had to start over again.

And nobody would ever have thought about telling us about the ultimate letting go - of getting a call at 3:30 in the morning from our daughter-in-law that our oldest son, Frank, had died in his sleep. That was 4 and a half years ago when he was just 54 and that is a pain that never goes away. But life goes on and we have been watching the next generation of our family grow, and grow!

We have 21 grandchildren - 16 of who live within an hour of our home in Barrington where we downsized a little over 5 years ago but had to be close enough to STV to be here every week.

There's another thing nobody told us - that we, like many of you, would see our children who we took to church every week, who went to CCD every year, who never sat down to a meal without saying Grace, leave the church as some of ours did. Now, they have always gone to a church and have a deep faith in God, and a close relationship with Jesus, but all we wanted was for them to know the grace and fullness of our faith. So as mom's we keep on praying - at least I did and I TOLD them I did! Well I'm here to tell you it works. This past Holy Saturday Frank and I sponsored two of our grandchildren who were raised in the evangelical church come into the Catholic Church. Their older sister was sponsored by a friend from college and our son, and his wife, who was raised in the Baptist church will be doing the same soon. It is amazing to see the joy in their faces as they talk about their new found faith, the books they're studying, their sheer amazement while reading the early church Fathers - and frankly teaching us! So, we just nod our heads like we know what they're talking about and then later look it up!

Today's readings talk about how Jesus told His apostles to go out into the world and preach the good news. That's what we moms do. That's what you are doing. You are giving your children the tools they need to be an example to others, to bring the light of Christ into a world that needs His light badly.

Marian DeGroot

(5:00pm Mass)

My name is Marian DeGroot my husband Dan, and I have been blessed with an amazing Daughter Danielle and our two grand pups Homie and Dude! I was fortunate to be raised in a relatively large Catholic family, being the youngest of five I was surrounded by much love in our house.

My mother and my father were, like yours, like all human beings, unique, each of them with an individual personality. Therefore, I want, on this Mother's Day, to remember the loving person who sheltered and protected me, who raised five children, taught us our prayers, and how to tell right from wrong. Our mothers washed our clothes, put food on the table, helped us with our homework, and stood by us when we were in trouble. Our mothers forgave us when we disappointed her and thanked us when we did well.

When I became a mother, I realized what my mom meant when she said oh just wait someday you will understand! Becoming a mom really changes your life. Children teach us how to love unconditionally. The love between parent and child is a very special bond because they are an extension of us. We learn to care for someone else and put their needs ahead of our own. They teach us patience. They keep us aware, awake and responsible. They challenge us, push us to our limits, and show us that we need to learn to set boundaries. Finally, they show us how to love fiercely and let go, the hard lesson of non-attachment, though most of us parents remain completely attached, as my daughter would attest too, for a lifetime. No matter how old they are, they are our babies.

So today is Mother's Day, and I want to give thanks for our mothers — for the gift of life and for all their love and compassion they give us every day, every hour. Moreover, the beautiful thing is that it does not stop as we grow up, as we all know! A mother's love is for always, forever.

Motherhood is a very high calling. What relationship can ever replace the love of a mother, grandmother, or god-mother? The love, guidance, and influence that our mothers provide are invaluable.

However, we live in a different world today. Today, mothers are CEO's, teachers, doctors, nurses, politicians, police officers, homemakers, heads of households or volunteers. Moreover, many serve on the front line struggling to protect their children against violence and poverty.

Women are —problem solvers, caregivers and teachers using their talents in every sector of our society. However, above all their prime vocation is motherhood.

There is no doubt that motherhood is a very high calling. However, to whom can mothers look to as a role model of motherhood? Today's modern culture offers many role models through television, movies and women's magazines. However, often these role models are altogether wrong, or they provide an insufficient and unrealistic view of real motherhood.

All mothers who wish to be faithful to their high calling need only look to the woman who became the most significant mother of all. Born into humble surroundings, she was called by God to be the mother of the Son of God. She affirmed her obedience to the call of God and lived out her vocation throughout her entire life. Mary, the mother of Jesus, our Blessed Mother, is the true motherhood role model.

In today's gospel, Jesus told us to go into the world and proclaim the good news to the whole creation. The one who believes and is baptized will be saved, but the one who does not believe will be condemned.

Isn't that what our mothers taught us? Mothers show us to be that person who spreads the love of God and to care for all of Jesus people. I think that is what he meant and I think that we do that in our daily lives. Each of us is called in some way. We may never know how much we have done, but in Jesus' mind, I believe it is sufficient that we do whatever we can. God has a lot of work to do, but that can only be done through us.

So today if you have mothers and grandmothers that are with you cherish them today. Hug and kiss them. Honor them. Thank them. For those whose mothers have gone home to the Lord, remember and pray for them.

In honor of my mother's love, I would like to close with a poem I found online!

*Today, I looked in the mirror;
Curious as to what I would see.
I expected to see my reflection
Staring back at me.*

*But as I looked, I saw something more
In the face that was there.
I saw the reflection of my mother;
A woman filled with care.*

*Each year is another year closer
To looking like my Mother.
I see her in my reflection,
In one way or another.*

*May I not only look like her
But, reflect her heart as well.
For, it's full of love and kindness;
God's goodness in a nutshell.*

*Another year closer to looking like mom,
That only makes me glad.
For, I loved my beautiful Mother.
She's the best reflection I've ever had.*

ON ROYAL WEDDINGS, AND ROYAL BLOODLINES

So I got up around 6:30 last Saturday morning to go out for a run. My wife got up at the same time because it was a work day for her. We had the TV on early to catch the weather, but we ended up catching something else: the royal wedding coverage. It's funny. I'd had a conversation about it with a friend the day prior. I asked her if she'd be watching. Daisy said that she wouldn't be getting up at 4:00 AM, but that she'd have the TV on later in the day. I told her that all things royal were lost on me. She said she understood, but acknowledged she enjoyed such events from a see-how-the-other-half-lives perspective. I admitted to her later on that I actually enjoyed watching it, too.

Gail and I both headed out, though, and I figured that was that. And it was. Until Saturday evening. Because while we had planned to go see the new Avengers movie that night, we ended up staying on the couch instead to catch the nuptials on a PBS repeat broadcast. Royal sightings. Celebrity sightings. And what's with those sideways hats that many of the women were wearing? Gail said they're called "fascinators." Probably because it's fascinating how they don't fall off. This aside, the whole thing was good television. Daisy was right regarding her see-how-the-other-half-lives perspective. And as I consider today's Solemnity of the Most Holy Trinity celebration, I ponder it from a perspective inspired by New Zealand pop singer Lorde's 2013 hit, Royals.

Lorde begins that song by putting herself in a common person's position ("I've never seen a diamond in the flesh/ I cut my teeth on wedding rings in the movies/ And I'm not proud of my address, in the torn up town/ No post code envy"), then speaks of how-the-other-half lives ("But everybody's like Cristal, Maybach, diamonds on your timepiece/ Jet planes, islands, tigers on a gold leash..." before concluding that this isn't the life for her or for her friends ("And we'll never be royals/ It don't run in our blood/ That kind of lux just ain't for us..."). But we are. Royals, I mean. Maybe not the kind that serves Cristal champagne or drives Maybachs or goes to weddings in Windsor Castle, but royals just the same.

I mean, look who our Father is: the Creator of the universe. And look who moves in us: the Spirit of the Lord. The Apostle Paul tells us in today's second reading that those led by this Spirit are children of God. Well...that's us, no? And if we are sons and daughters of God, then we are brothers and sisters to the Christ. And the Christ is King of the universe, for heaven's sake. And nobody out-royals Jesus, so don't you see? We have royal blood flowing through us all day long. Amazing royal blood. Oh, we forget this sometimes. I do, anyway. But when I take the time to remember it--when I take the time to let it really sink in--it takes my breath away. I like Lorde's song, but she got it wrong. We are royals to the max. It does run in our blood. I got it wrong, too, though. I told Daisy that all things royal were lost on me. More correctly, all things royal flow in me. All things royal is who I am. Is who we all are.

Parish Family-

Thank you all so much for your prayers in these last few weeks and over the course of the year as I ended my first year at Mundelein Seminary!!! This year flew by, but I am very grateful for the people I have met, and the experiences I have grown from. Only three more years until priesthood ordination!!

This weekend, I am in Dubuque, Iowa, celebrating the ordination to the priesthood for Jacob Rouse, who served here as a deacon at St. Thomas this past year. Fr. Jacob and I lived on the same floor at Mundelein, and he has been a great big brother as I transitioned from St. Joseph College Seminary to Mundelein. I have assured him of our parish family's continued prayers for him as he begins his life-long priestly ministry to the people of God.

For the summer, I will be studying at Creighton University in Omaha, Nebraska, beginning this weekend and ending the last Saturday in July. The program is designed for diocesan seminarians, teaching them, as St. Paul writes to the Church in Rome in today's second reading, to be aware of the spirit of adoption that we have received through baptism and to be bold and steadfast in calling God our Father. I am attending the program with 5 other classmates from Chicago, and we will be joining over 200 other seminarians from across the country. Please pray for all of us attending the program this summer, that our hearts and minds may be open to the working of the Spirit and we may become more aware of the adoption we have received through our baptism, so that we may effectively teach and preach the love of God to the people we will minister to as priests. Know of my daily prayers for all of you and those you love!

In Christ the Risen Lord,
Seminarian Andy Matijevic

IN SERVICE TO OUR COUNTRY

Lord, bless the men and women of our military as they answer the call to serve our nation and defend our freedom. Protect and heal them-- body, soul, mind and spirit--especially those in harm's way. Most of all let them know your love; that you are with them, and that you will never forsake or abandon them. I ask this in the name of Jesus, our Lord and Savior. Amen.

UROCZYSTOŚĆ NAJŚWIĘTSZEJ TRÓJCY –

Uśmiechnięta Trójca

W niezwykle sposób o Trójcy Świętej opowiadał w swoich kazaniach średniowieczny mistyk dominikański Mistrz Eckhart: 'Ojciec śmieje się do Syna, a Syn do Ojca, śmiech przynosi przyjemność, przyjemność przynosi radość, a radość przynosi miłość'. Radość i szczęście Boga są tak wielkie, że pragnie się nimi dzielić z ludźmi. Ojciec, Syn i Duch Święty to wspólnota radości. Spójrzmy tak dzisiaj na Boga. Uśmiechnijmy się razem z Nim i do Niego. Uśmiech też może się stać modlitwą. Niech nasze serca się rozweselą... Radujmy się ze swoim Panem...

Jak zrozumieć Litanię Loretańską...

Wielu z nas modli się w maju słowami Litanii Loretańskiej, jednak nie wszyscy znają jej istotę, wymagającą zrozumienia i odkrycia. Jest to warunek uczynienia ze słów litanii głębokiej modlitwy, która nie będzie mechanicznie powtarzaniem pustosłowie, a wołaniem serca...

'Litania' to modlitwa błagalna składająca się z szeregu zawołań przeplatanych powtarzającą się formułą błagalną. Nie zawsze zawierała ona dokładnie te słowa, co dzisiaj, chociażby ze względu na ewolucję lingwistyczną czy semantyczną języka... W Litanii Loretańskiej prosimy o wstawiennictwo Matkę Bożą jedynymi adekwatnymi, jak się wydaje, słowami 'Módl się za nami'. Akcentują one fakt, że przez wstawiennictwo Maryi zwracamy się do Boga. W swoistego rodzaju dialogu błagalnym wierni powtarzają chórem słowa wypowiedziane przez prowadzącego modlitwę i w ten sposób wołają o pomoc.

W wezwaniach umieszczonych w litanii Maryja jest przywoływana jako Matka Zbawiciela, Panna wierna czy Królowa Apostołów. Wypowiadając je, można w prosty sposób krótko rozważyć w sercu zawarte w nich tajemnice. Istnieje też możliwość zatrzymania się na poszczególnych wezwaniach dla odnalezienia siebie w prawdach zbawienia, wierności czy apostołstwa.

Wezwania zawarte w Litanii Loretańskiej pojawiały się w ciągu wieków. Ludzie, świadomi przemożnego wstawiennictwa Matki Boga, odkrywali Jej pomoc w konkretnych sprawach, wyprasząc łaski dla grzeszników, dziewczę i wyznawców. Była Ona 'Matką dobrej rady' dla potrzebujących pomocy, 'Stolicą Mądrości' dla poszukujących prawdy i 'Przyczyną radości' dla doświadczających smutku. W ten sposób powstała litania ludzi zwracających się do Matki w konkretnych potrzebach.

Kilkadziesiąt wezwań jest dziełem ludzi wiary, dla których Maryja stała się Drogą do Syna.

Z pewnością każdy z nas ma wokół siebie wiele osób, za które chce się modlić. Każde wezwanie daje impuls do przywołania którejś z nich. W ten sposób można także oddawać Maryi sytuacje, miejsca, całe wspólnoty. Litanijnie powtarzane 'Módl się za nami' może być kierowane do Boga za grzeszników, strapienych, wiernych i chorych. Wtedy litania zaczyna być. Staje się litaniją mojego życia, moich spraw, litaniją tych, których noszę w sercu. Modlitwa staje się prawdziwym błaganiem i wołaniem do Boga, a nie bezsensownym wierszykowaniem...

Nie zawsze jednak wszystkie wezwania są zrozumiałe i nie wszyscy odmawiający wiedzą, jaką treść kryją. Takie zawołania jak: 'Domie złoty', 'Arko przymierza' czy 'Wieżo z kości słoniowej' nie pozwalają na konkretne przywołanie jakiegokolwiek sytuacji czy osoby z naszego życia, ponieważ wymagają pewnej wiedzy, dotyczącej trudnych nieraz prawd teologicznych, przywołujących konkretne obrazy biblijne. Na przykład wezwanie 'Arko przymierza' ukazuje Maryję jako kobietę noszącą w łonie Jezusa, przez którego mogło dokonać się przymierze Boga z ludźmi. Odwołanie do biblijnej Arki przymierza, gdzie znajdowały się kamienne tablice – znak przymierza Boga z ludźmi za czasów Mojżesza – to obraz pokazujący, jak ważne miejsce w historii zbawienia Bóg wyznaczył Maryi.

Ponieważ wiedza religijna stanowi w tym wypadku warunek 'sine qua non' modlitwy, konieczne wydaje się systematyczne pogłębianie jej zasobów poprzez odpowiednią lekturę duchową.

Co robić, kiedy nie mamy dostępu do takiej literatury, a chcemy modlić się przez wstawiennictwo Maryi na sposób litanijny? Być może określenia Matki składające się na Litanię Loretańską nie są zrozumiałe dla wszystkich, lecz każdy może odkryć Maryję na swój sposób, modląc się słowami noszonymi w sercu. Po wezwaniach do Trójcy Świętej mogą się pojawić całkiem nowe, będące odzwierciedleniem rzeczywistości, w której żyje dany człowiek. 'Matko zakochanych', 'Nadziejo więźniów', 'Królowo poszukujących', 'Nadziejo upadających'... Wezwań niekoniecznie musi być ponad pięćdziesiąt, wystarczy trzydzieści. Twoich! Takich, które nosisz w sercu i które coś dla Ciebie znaczą. Ta litania nie ma końca, bo przecież każdy z nas może wołać do Maryi, jak umie, a słowa 'Módl się za nami' będą świadczyły, jak bardzo potrzebujemy tej modlitwy na poplątanych ścieżkach życia...
